The Honorary Degrees

Doctor of Science — George Wells Beadle

Distinguished biologist, now Chairman of the Division of Biological Sciences, California Institute of Technology. Through his brilliant researches as a geneticist he has pioneered a vast new area of biology, physiological genetics, and has made spectacular contributions to our knowledge of the manner of action of genes in heredity. An outstanding teacher, he has attracted students from throughout the world. As a scientist, he has generously given valuable service to the United States Government in many capacities.

Presented by Frank A. Brown, Jr., Professor of Biology and Chairman of the Department of Biological Sciences

Doctor of Laws — Ordway Tead

Teacher, editor, educational administrator. Combining wide interests with unusual versatility, he has achieved particular distinction as Chairman of the Board of Higher Education of New York City. In that capacity, his statesmanship in the face of serious political, economic, and social problems has won national acclaim. In addition, as a university teacher, as author, as scholar in the area of the social sciences, and as editor, he has demonstrated rare ability for leadership in many fields.

Presented by Payson S. Wild, Vice-President and Dean of Faculties

Doctor of Laws — Robert Wood Johnson

Farsighted industrialist, able administrator, responsible public servant; leader in management and in education for management, Brigadier-General in Army Ordnance, sometime Vice-Chairman, War Production Board, and Chairman, Smaller War Plants Corporation, he believes unshakably in the innate dignity of man; by precept and deed he makes explicit his conviction that business must do its work for the good of humanity, that people must live and work together or forfeit freedom.

Presented by Richard Donham, Professor of Business Administration and Director of Graduate Division of Commerce

Doctor of Science — Daniel Collier Elkin

A man in whose nature are combined the disciplined abilities and rigorous attainments of a surgeon of international repute and the unaffected, kindly, and gentle characteristics of a country doctor of the old school.

His conspicuous achievements in advancing the progress of the surgical treatment of wounds and diseases of the blood vessels during service to his country have marked epochs in surgery and were rewarded by the Matas medal. Immediate past president of the American Surgical Association, Regent of the American College of Surgeons, alumnus of Yale University, he is the Whitehead Professor of Surgery at Emory University School of Medicine.

His general historical and literary interests, his appreciation of the need for and the value of a broad, cultural background for the student of medicine are widely recognized. He is a distinguished surgeon, a stimulating teacher, a scholar, and a gentleman of the South.

Presented by Dr. Loyal Davis, Professor of Surgery and Chairman of the Department of Surgery

Doctor of Laws — Anna Miller Scott

An honor graduate of Northwestern University, a Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Halle, Germany, authoress, poetess, and for twenty years the gracious First Lady of this University, whose indefatigable loyalty and service have won for her the esteem and gratitude of all who have known her.

Presented by Harry L. Wells, Vice-President and Business Manager

Doctor of Sacred Theology — Harry Clifford Northcott

Bishop of the Methodist Church for Wisconsin and distinguished alumnus of Northwestern University. As an ordained minister since 1918 and as bishop since 1948, he has served his church, the University, the community, and his country in a number of notable ways. He has been a trustee of Northwestern and has been a chaplain in the armed forces overseas. As a preacher and as a leader in church, civic, and educational affairs, he has been outstanding and his influence has been widespread.

Presented by Bishop J. Ralph Magee, Trustee of Northwestern University

Doctor of Laws — James Lewis Morrill

Educator, public-spirited citizen, and President of the University of Minnesota. His distinguished career as an educational administrator has included positions of responsibility, among them Vice-President of Ohio State University; President of the University of Wyoming; President of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities; Chairman of the American Council on Education; and Chairman of the United States Advisory Commission on Educational Exchange of the Department of State. Under his vigorous leadership during the postwar era, the University of Minnesota has achieved an outstanding record in the fields of education, research, and public service.

Presented by Kenneth F. Burgess, Trustee of Northwestern University and President of the Board
